Strikers Accept Suggestion of Post-Dispatch as Basis of Settlement

The Executive Committee of the street car men's union this afternoon announced that it had decided to accept the suggestions made in a Post-Dispatch editorial, printed this afternoon, as the basis on which they are ready to settle the strike. They said they were ready to proceed at once to a conference for a settlement on such a basis.

The three suggestions which the strikers adopt as their platform, and as they appear on the editorial page of this edition of the Post-Dispatch,

1. That the management of the United Railways recognize the right of the employes to organize and submit their griev-

COMPANY DIRECTORS CONSIDER STRIKE;

SETTLEMENT-The dispute turns on unionism. The men are willing to return to work at once if the company unionize its lines and shops. They are willing to arbitrate wages and hours.

Up to this writing the company declines to recognize a union. The company is trying to throw the dispute into the hands of the State Public Utilities Commission, which has jurisdiction over its finances and service. However the commission cannot act except upon written request by both parties and the strikers prefer to deal with Mayor Kiel or the Federal Arbitrator, Patrick H. Gill.

CARS RUNNING—Company reports a maximum of 93 cars this morning on 11 lines and 99 early in the afternoon on 13 lines.

EMERGENCY TRANSPORTATION—Jitney cars still running in all direction with fares ranging from 10 to 50 cents but an increasing number of workers walked downtown on the second business day of the strike. Some concerns carry employes in motor trucks. Suburban trains making stops at stations in the city are crowded.

STRIKEBREAKERS!-Union insists strikebreakers are being imported, and urge the Mayor to oppose such importation. United Railways asserts strikebreakers have not and will not be brought here.

PUBLIC UTILITIES—Telephone, mails, gas, electricity, and water service normal. Companies have solved problem of transporting employes to and from their homes.

RETAIL TRADE-Volume of business at all downtown retail stores much below normal. Telephone order departments unusually busy. the volume of this kind of business being much in excess of the usual daily telephone orders. Deliveries by department stores cut to one a day so that delivery trucks might be used in carrying employes to and from their homes INDUSTRIES-Factory work almost normal today with employes reporting late but with comparatively few absent. Production not seriously curtailed.

All of Hotels Crowded All of the St. Louis hotels were crowded last night. At the close of the first business day of the strike it was apparent that the jitney serv ice was too uncertain to be depended on and many employers and workers preferred to remain downtown overnight, rather than take a chance on reaching their offices and places of employment by the jitney route in the morning. As on Monday, many large corpo

The volume of business of downtown retail stores was much below normal yesterday, according to Sec-retary Niemoeller of the Associated Retailers. Telephone orders, however, were greater than usual.

The Associated Retailers of St.

Louis have decided to close their stores at 5 p. m. daily as long as the street cars are not operating reg-ularly. This is to give the employed more time to get home. Employes living great distances from the stores will be allowed to go home earlier some being released as early as disclosed.

No change was made in the usual opening hour of 8:30 a. m. The regular closing hour recently has been 5:30 p. m. Most of the department store employes were at work o time this morning. The stores use their delivery trucks and the auti mobiles owned by store officials to carry girls to work. The same conveyances will be used to carry the employes home. While this systemis in effect there will be only one delivery daily by department stores.

Most large industries have made arrangements for transporting their employes to and from work. The Wagner Electric Co., in Wellston, our erates large trucks and autom along regular routes through time this morning, with only a few. workers absent. It is engag contracts for the Government.

Text of McCulloch's Refusal to. Obey Mayor's Subpena to Conference

ERE is the communication which Richard McCulloch, president of the United Railways, sent to Mayor Kiel, instead of obeying the Mayor's subpens, to attend a conference with union men in the Mayor's office at 5 p. m. yesterday, though it had been promised by Supt. Cameron that a representative of the company would attend the conference:

"In the absence of several important members of the Board of Directors of the United Railways a meeting of the Board cannot be convened before tomorrow, as I have heretofore advised you. Moral and Financial Support of 70,000 Unionists Pledged by 300 Delegates.

The Central Trades and Labor Union, at a meeting of about 300 delegates, held last night at its hall, 2228 Olive street, passed resolutions, pledging moral and financial support to the street car men and suggesting that a public mass meeting be held for discussing the situation.

It was declared that they represent 70,000 trades unionists in St

The resolutions follow: Whereas the street railway employes of the United Railways Co. have organized a local division of the Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employes of America, and known as Division 788 and,

"Whereas, this movement of establishing a local union was begun and promoted solely by the employes of the United Railways and after it had reached a reasonable membership these men consulted and advised with local representatives of Louis and others who willingly gave all the advice and assistance possible to guide these men securing a charter of the Amalgamated Association of street car men the only bona fide street car men's union affiliated with the American Federation

Whereas, the newly formed division 788 at mass meeting assembled elected their Grievance Committee, composed of employes of said company, instructing said officers and committee draft demands to be presented to the company covering wages and working conditions, and after honest efforts were made on the part of this local committee of street car men to present their demands to President McCulloch and offered ar bitration on matters upon which a satisfactory adjustment could not be reached, and

Whereas, The company offiials have for the past month of January, without any hesitation, dismissed numerous employes for asserting their rights as American citizens in joining this street car men's union with the sole purpose of destroying same, and thereby prevent these men from establishing the right of collective bargaining; and, Whereas. These street car men fully realize the strength of this gigantic corporation, and having in mind the policies and tactics that have been pursued by this company in the past in destroving all efforts of organi a local union, and after doing all in their power to prevent a suspension of work, and which they realized would cause a serious inconvenience to the public, and further having in mind that our country was involved in a serious war, they desired to prevent, if possible, a suspension and offered arbitration to the company, which was not accepted by the company; and,

Whereas, The United Railways Co. is the party entirely responsible for this suspension owing to their refusal to meet the com-mittee and discuss the demands of the men, and further by refusing to submit all questions that could not be adjusted be-tween them to arbitration, and. further, it is contended by the officials of the company that there is a scarcity of help for street car work, while, on the other hand, unless this company and a committee of the street car men adjust this matter the company will assume that they have the right and will endeavor to operate these cars with im ported thugs, outlaws and all kind of bad characters, thereby, infesting the city with undesir able persons, which should be protested in the strongest terms possible on the part of labor and the people of our city generally. Such an act on the part of the company is unwarranted, for the reason that this whole dispute could be adjusted, if not by con which will bring about the op-eration of the street cars by the men who are entitled to operate. by men who live in our midst as good citizens, doing their share in the promotion of country and city; and.

"Whereas, There have been efforts made by the officials of the street car company to accuse labor of being unpatriotic, which we, as members of the trade movement know to be false, as past events and acts will prove, and we all know that union labor has in its entirety followed out the recommenda-tions of President Gompers and the American Federation of La-

"Whereas, We, the trade union people are glad and happy that these street car men at last awakened to the point that they fully realize that organization is absolutely necessary to better their condition and we heartily give them our helping hand and will encourage them in this great effort to better their conditions and give them rights as workers;

therefore, be it "Resolved, That the Central habor unions in St. Louis in special meeting assembled this fourth day of February, 1918, do hereby instruct our president to appoint at least a committee of five to assist and act as an advisory committee to the street

Insurance Adjuster's Alleged Remarks in Woman's Home Recorded by Shorthand Men.

A conversation in the dining room at the home of Mrs. J. Trader, 3948 Evans avenue, which was recorded by a dictaphone and written down by two shorthand reporters, resulted in the arrest last night of a woman and two men, who, the police charge, were implicated in an arson conspir-

Joseph Ritter, a fire inwrance adjuster, 45 years old, of 2420 Dickson street, was conversing with Mrs. Trader, Sunday night. The dictaphone, shorthand reporters and several detectives were in the basement of the Trader home.

"Don't have anything to do with the police," Ritter is alleged to have the police," Kitter is alleged, will said to Mrs. Trader. "They will double-cross you; stand pat." Ritter was one of the men arrested.

Rooming-House Keeper Arrested. The woman arrested was Mrs. Jane Magee, 36 years old, of 3317 Morgan street. A fire in her room ing house on the night of Jan. 26 caused an investigation by fire insurance agents. Hyman Findelman, a real estate dealer, 45 years old, of 1823 North Garrison avenue, was the 1823 North Garrison avenue, was the second man arrested.

A third man was detained, but he was in no way involved in the alleged conspiracy, the police say. He was taken into custody because Mrs. Magee said he was a friend of hers and detectives wished to question

There was a fire Nov. 13, last, at 4169 Delmar boulevard, the former home of Mrs. Trader. Insurance amounting to $800 was paid. Of this amount Mrs. Trader received only $250. The remainder, it is said, went to Ritter and Fendelman. Mrs. Trader has made a detailed statement to Detective. Mrs. Trader told Allender that she carried $500 insurance on her fur-niture. Ritter called at her home in the early part of November, she said, and induced her to increase the amount of the policy to $1500. Later he introduced Fendelman to her. He called Fendelman "Mr. Jones,"

Mrs. Trader said.
Absents Herself, Fire Occurs. Fendelman told Mrs. Trader that she was to absent herself from her home between 6 and 6:30 p. m. Nov. 13, she said, and he called on her that evening. She left the house at 6:30 p. m., she said, and Fendelman was theer a tthe time. Later a fire started in a wardrobe and de-stroyed a roomful of furniture. It was not the furniture that had been insured, Mrs. Trader said, but a cheaper variety which had been substituted. The insurance company paid for the loss of the good furniture which had been concealed in another part of the house. Ritter talked to Mrs. Magee about ire insurance a few days before the re at her house, the detectives say. The insurance was carried in the name of her husband, "Biddy" Magee, a saloon keeper, but she had it transferred to her own name and took out some additional insurance.

on her fire as yet. Ritter and Fendelman refused to talk to the police. The conversa tion Sunday night at Mrs. Trader's home followed an appointment Mrs. Trader made with Ritter at the request of detectives. She had said something about detectives investigating the fire at her former home and Ritter then made the remarks which were repeated by the dictaphone, the detectives report.

SENDING AWAY OF 600 MEN TO START FEB. 23

Remainder of St. Louis' Quota of 4377 Under First Draft to Go to Camp:

Six hundred men, forming the remainder of St. Louis' quota in the first draft, will depart from the city for service with the National Army at Camp Funston beginning Feb. 23, according to instructions received yesterday by local exemption boards from Provost Marshal-General Crowder. About 3800 of the original quota of 4377 men have already been sent to camp.

As a result of the order approximately one-half of the 28 local wards which have not as yet filled their quotas, will resume the examination of men at once. Saturday instructions were issued through the District Board here that physical examinations be discontinued pend-ing the arrival of the new regulations from Washington, but in view of the Provost Marshal's latest order, it was decided to examine enough men to complete the quota.

George Niedringhaus of 3745 Lindell boulevard, assistant manager of the National Enameling and Stamping Co., was granted deferred classification yesterday by the district board on the ground that he is a directing head of a necessary industrial enterprise. The plant of which Niedringhaus is the head is engaged in manufacturing supplies for the Government. Two of his brothers, Marion and Francis Niedringhaus, are in the navy.

MINSTREL SEPTET, UNION SUIT POSER, ARE PLEASING

Cars or No Cars, Orpheum Has Audi-ence—Fritzi Scheff Sings "Kiss Me."

Outside transportation difficulties were more noticeable than local ones at the Orpheum Theater last night. Three acts and the travel weekly failed to arrive, but the andience, downstairs at least, was of such courageous size that it really should have been made to rise and take a bow.

Blonde Burdella Patterson and her excellent lantern operator demon-strated how much Art can do with a simple union suit as a basis. Modern art, for the most part, affects to ignore or despise the union suit, but it is likely that Venus was wearing one when she arose from the sea, and that Lady Godive had one on during her noted horseback ride Miss Patterson's job is simply to stand quite still in her union suit and let the lantern man throw pictures around her, somewhat after the fashion of the expert thrower who surrounds a woman's form with knives stuck into a board. She fits very prettily into all of the pictures, of which are gorgeous stained glass effects.

Fritzi Scheff's Mephisto costum is more notable than her voice, but her old-time pertness of manner won her a recall, in which she sang her best-remembered song, "Kiss Me Again." George Nash and Julia Hay gave a duo, "The Unexpected," which is reminiscent of "Cheating Cheaters" and "Seven Keys to Baldpate," and which attempts, with fair success, the difficult task of mingling romance and crook atmosphere. The Seven Honey Boys, including Manuel Romain, tenor, presented an unusuminstrel act. They are high-grade fun-makers. Aveling and Lloyd, who got in late, entitle their broad dialogue, "Two Southern Gentlemen." The South is a great section, and can stand it.

Get Acquainted with Bran-eata

The wonderful cereal food with positive laxative effect

You need , bran-you should eat some every day-it will help to keep you well by overcoming the common tendency to. constipation. No longer is it necessary for you to mix your bran with other cereals or to bake bran mussins or bran bread to make it palatable.

Are what you have been looking for! Laxative-Nutritious-Ready-To-Eat.

BRAN-EATA is an original patented cereal food that everyone will enjoy-it combines all the strength-giving qualities of crisply toasted corn flakes-all the natural laxative virtues of clean, sterilized bran-all blended with syrup and shaped into biscuit form-crisply toasted and ready to eat.

The Food With A Purpose

Although BRAN-EATA contains more than 50% bran, you would never know it by the taste, so skillfully has the bran been blended with other delicious and nutritive ingredients. But the bran is there-rich in those essential phosphates, lime and other salts which are necessary to build muscle, bone and brain-and supplying a plentiful amount of roughage to assure regular, normal action of the intestinal tract.

Saves Sugar-Saves Wheat

BRAN-EATA is already sweetened and saves sugar. It is ready to eat and saves cooking. It contains corn flakes and bran and therefore saves wheat. And Bran-eata Biscuits are economical—six full servings for 10¢.

Being of Men in Trenches

A Special Correspondent of the Post-

(Copyright, 1918. WITH THE AMERICAN ARMY IN FRANCE, Feb. 5.—Right beidmiration for the men who are on he firing line. The machine operites over miles of country and has cogs in every little town and village for a long distance back. Its feelers reach into the shell-plowed ground very day and even into the trenches selves. It is the machine that akes it possible for us to have men in the trenches at all and, having them there, to keep them there.

Everything imaginable is being one to insure the physical, mental and moral well-being of the fighting men. Perhaps the most striking fea-ture is that right behind the trenches of the American soldiers is a devoted little band of five Salvation Army lassies, three from New York City and two from other parts of New York State. They are established in ruined villages within the range of the shells. These women are located in smashed-up buildings, with dug-outs adjoining, cooking real American ples and doughnuts, mending up the trench walls and preventing upon for information as to the enclothes and performing generally the loose earth from caving in. They emy's disposition of troops and actions little tasks which only women also secure health and comfort by tivity behind the lines which may

Recently they were 10 in number, but now the importance of which should not be lost sight of in the well-deserved admiration for the men who are on the firm line. for the soldiers, while army chap-lains go about the trenches fearlessly to cheer the men up. All this contributes greatly to heighten the mo-rale and the officers have no doubt it is one reason why the men are so

Mail Service Well Established. Another great contributing cause is the fact that the mail service is now well established. Every night when the wagons go up carrying food supplies and ammunition to the trenches they carry also mail from the United States. The wagons bring back letters from the soldiers to dear ones at home—letters smeared with mud from the trenches, and written with pencil in the candle light of the trenches, often with shells crashing just outside.

What do these letters say? Well, here is a verbatim quotation from etter written by one of the soldiers to his father and mother: "Don't worry about me. I'm all right. If anything happens, I have taken out $5000 insurance in your "They're all about the same," said a gray-haired chaplain censoring letters—very leniently. "All the leters talk about insurance and tell the olks not to worry."

This is one more reason why Americans should be proud of their army. It's difficult to picture the comfort they get from a regular mail delivery. - It brings them in closer touch with home, if sometimes the thought comes that perhaps they will not see home again.

For bodily comfort everything possible is being done. Every man has the consoling knowledge that if any thing happens to him quick, efficient medical care is awaiting him. He s carried to a first-aid station where he is thoroughly examined and given a tetanus serum. Then he is taken to a well-equipped infirmary a mile or so in back of the trenches, where trained hospital corps men attend to him. A medical officer is always on duty, also a chaplain who is ready to make things easier for him. Then as quickly as an ambulance can carry him, he is hurried to a thoroughly equipped and complete field hospital which is a model of cleanliness and efficiency, with a staff that is more than adequate.

One such hospital has two oper ating tables on duty day and night There are seven wards with 175 beds. Each ward has a separate purpose, one for surgical cases, another contagious cases and another for cases of shell shock. There is even a ward for the treatment of vermin cases Perhaps the most complete of the lot the gas ward, where there is a special reception chamber for gas patients who must be treated by surgeons wearing gas masks because the fumes cling to the clothing. The first step is to remove the clothing of the patient, give him a warm shower bath with a neutralizing solution treat him with oxygen and other specifics depending on the nature of the gas and the severity of the case

Stream of Supply Wagons. The patient is then removed to ward where he gets the closest ob servation and care. Each ward is separate wooden barrack and i kept warm and cozy by many stoves The wards are neat as pins. The patients are given excellent food. As soon as possible they are removed to an evacuating hospital in a nearby town and thence they are taken finally to the Johns Hopkins base hos pital to complete their recovery. To keep this machine moving quires hundreds of men, and a fleet of ambulances, besides daily loads of supplies. Right across the road from the field hospital is a cluster of warehouse sheds, where engines puff and trucks are constantly load ing and unloading. It is an advance supply base through which passes onstant stream of clothing, food and quipment for the men at the front These come from the sea coast b way of a railroad line of communica tion. They reach a larger railroad center further back and are ther transferred to a narrow gauge road, teminding one of the American dum my lines whose little engines toilalong with cars laden with everything that a soldier needs to this advanced base which is "farthest north," for railroads Thence they are transferred to trucks and wagens which move only by night and are invisible to the enemy, to smaller storehouses at the front itself. Many days' supplies must be kept at an advanced base so that no matter what happens, the Amer ican soldier in the trenches shall have food and clothing.

Not far away are two other im portant depots for the ordnance are engineering branches. Here are ord nance supplies, tools, guns, cart ridges, grenades, bayonets and va of which an adequate supply must always be kept on hand, for on these may depend a soldier's life

The engineers' main task is conserving life, though they also do many other things. They are busy constructing plenty of dugouts, making them deep and strong, to which the boys can retire when the Germans start firing their shells. In the dugouts they play cards or count the shell bursts until the bombard. ment is over. The engineers also secure safety by taking care of the arbed wire entanglements,

Don't Trifle with Anemia

A tendency towards Anemia is dangerous. Anemia slowly but surely drains the life away. When it reaches a certain point, Anemia is incurable. Some symptoms of anemia are lassitude, loss of appetite, a decline of vigor and frequent "off-days." For more than a quartercentury physicians have prescribed for anemia and anemic tendencies with very great success Pepto-Mangan strengthens poor blood by creating millions of healthy, vigorous, new red cells, and by charging the blood with iron. Blood that is rich in iron and red cells washes away the energy-sapping poisons and brings about the return of health and the full joy of living. Begin a course of Pepto-Mangan today; it will soon help you as it has already ben-efited thousands. Friendly Warning: Genuine Pepto-Mangan is for sale in all drug stores, but only in bottle and package pictured here. It is never sold in bulk. Refuse all substitutes—Gude's is the only true Pepto-Mangan, Read the circular around the Red Cross Sweaters To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

I have been under the impression and so have others, that our boys at camps receive garments knitted and donated by the Red Cross Society were given them free of charge. A neighbor boy at Camp Funston told me he had to pay $3 for a sweater to one of his superiors. Do you have any knowledge of this? If he said the truth your paper ought to bring such conditions to light, for I think that is very wrong. The boys don't receive so much pay anyhow and that some one above them should profit by it. That ought to be stopped.

Increase Fare to Provide Wage Fund. To the Editor of the Post-Dispatch.

The street railway men should have their wages increased to meet the increased cost of living. Everything they and their families eat, wear or use has increased in cost, and it is only fair that their compensation should be correspondingly increased. The difficulty is that the railways members of a union to return to work. company cannot increase its selling price for what it furnishes, owing to the fac its fares is fixed by law. > See the silly pigs Scamper away, squealing, Wagging their abourd tails Round and 'round!

It's a steep climb-Up hill-to here-Must rest. On the stile.

Hon the spind Pushes the corn over By her frilly silk dress! How straight and breathless she stands With rustling garments, Sighing in vexation!

What a cloud of dust For an old darkey And a mule! Quick! Call the dogs, Or their barking will upset him!

How his eyes rolled, As he flopped past! What's sweet?

Wild grapes up the creek? See_there. Dripping in purple clusters Into the shimmering water!

At last! The lake! A mirror of color Fallen into the long grass, Half a'tilt, and spilling over on one side! And the sunset of moulten gold, Burning vividly, Yonder on the west shore!

Ah-fur-footed behind us Come the shadows! They are whispering In the willows now! We must go. Hear the tearful sweetness of that robin! GRAEME BURR.

BOMBARDING BILL

Just a Minute naturally receives many hard literary blows at the Kaiser, most of which, while possessing great heat, give almost no light. However, the following, while not meeting our usual objection, dissolves it in amusement, so to speak:

Here's to the Kaiser. The limburger cheese: May the bulge in his head Go down to his knees. May he break his fool neck On the Hindenburg line, And go down below croaking "The Watch on the Bhine."

Most of those who wallop the Kaiser in rhyme manage to get him into about the same place before they get done. To hell in eight lines, as in the above, may be said to be a short cut to where he is going by the man on remorseback.

POOR BUTTERFLY.

HE Nipponese martyred maiden's trust no longer has a monopoly on broken hearts. France has put in a stock of Poor Butterflies and is opening branches all over the country. The Japanese maiden's trust was a great institution. It made and unmade authors and actresses and kidded all the Lieutenants in the United States Navy into imagining themselves very bold, blase, and blow-away brethren. Now comes the unspeakable Sammy. Could he but talk he would surely blunder himself out of luck. But the love-sick French girls imagine that every word he says is just what every romantic story book lover says in the best-selling magazines. In a very short campaign-from saying "Bon Jour, Americain" -she is sweetly stammering: "Je T'aime Beaucoup, Mon Archibald!

And then she's in line for John Luther Long to work on.

The censor knows that Sammy says every Sunday to his war bride in the States: "Dear girl, you needn't worry about the French dames-I wouldn't exchange a thousand of them for one corn-fed specimen from Colorado,'' but the censor can't stay in the barracks all the time-and he sees Susceptible Sammy take the gifts the war gods provide.

And while Sammy with a spouse is undoubtedly platonic-most of the time-he leaves a luxuriant crop of butterflies behind-that will plague the studios and stages of America long after the ravages of war have been forgotten. Broken hearts for Butterflies are coming over in every transport. American war brides please note.

united in a single understandi purpose, and will, we are aroused to the true conditions of our disunion; thirtyationalities-not languages alone, alien allegiances-perpetuated and ered within our borders; alien-tongued newspapers and magazines combatting the ducational forces of our own press; alien thought, speech, and customs maintained in churches, in clubs, in schools, in busness, professional, and political such an extent, at the worst, that the sign "English Spoken Here," may be found in American shop windows; that office hold-ers cringe to the foreign vote, and we find the Mayor of a thriving town warning Americans against the public expression of sentiments concerning the world war which might offend their fellow residents which might offend their fellow residents of German breed or sympathies! In the light of such conditions, we now come to realize what had been passed by as portant hitherto, that a nationwide, expert German propaganda has been in progress for many years, ranging from Prince Henry's tour of the "singing socities" to the calculated pressure upon politicians of the solid German vote, paricularly directed toward Teutonizing our educational system.

Against this, what Americanizing influences have been opposed? None, generally speaking, previous to our entry into the conflict. Then two agencies began to make themselves felt: one a purposefully Americanising force, the other a strange diversion to the ends of patriotic propa-ganda of a national financing scheme. The irst, the general plan of the Councils of Defense, national, state and subsidiary contemplated from the outset missionary ork upon our alien-minded residents of the second, any one would have been of the second, any one would have been of the second, any one would have been or the second of set down as fervidly imaginative should have prophesied that a bond issue by the United States Treasury would prove the most effective possible agency for de-termining the state of the public mind as to loyalty, and hardly less effective as an rument of conversion of the disaffect-Yet so it has proven. Then it is for the Liberty Loan committees, the state Councils of Defense, to determine he may be reclaimed. I have studled the operation of a number of these nationalizing influences, particularly in the Middle West, where, outside of our great industrial centers, foreign culture most obstinately maintains itself, and though the process of Americanization will take years to complete, at least a most encouraging start has been made. • •

THERE remains to be considered the attitude of the many German residents of the nation who are unreservedly faithful. Not disloyalty, pro-Germanism or inlifference, but the fear of social, political, or business reprisals from their malcontent fellows, has prevented a considerable per-centage of this element from declaring the faith that is in them. Boycott, the sudden withdrawal of personal associations in church and club, the threat of vengeance at the polls have exerted a wide influ-

To offset this, and to afford the American-Germans the moral support of a na-tion-wide organization, the Society of the Friends of German Democracy has been

Nine-tenths of these could be won over to full loyalty. Is it not worth while, in a war which will eventually call upon every reserve which the nation possesses, to en-list the sympathy and support of this element? To me it seems one of the im-portant internal considerations of this war: a work to which, unless in the hard days to come we are to face divided counsels, hampering doubts, and a chill and alien spirit devitalizing the militant energles of the nation, we must all set

World's Most Famous Fight Promoter Returns to His Ranch in Paraguay.

By Robert Edgren.

(Copyright, 1918, by Press Pub. Co.) NEW YORK, Feb. 5 .- Tom "Bear cat" McMahon is to fight Fred Fuln in Denver next week. Perhaps Fulton doesn't realize his fortunate position. He is making a great deal more money than Willard, because he can take on a match every week or so. Jess has such a notion of the exalted dignity of his estate as champion that he fixes $50,000 as his minimum share in any purse. Consequently, Jess wouldn't find any chance to fight if he wanted to.

If Fulton knocked out Willard he would make any more money than he is earning now. He'd fin fewer opponents, and big purses will be scarce for some time to come. And if Fulton were champion he'd probably get the $50,000 idea, to d worry over the chance of losing that old title, just like Jess.

Tom McMahon took a decision over Illard in the big fellows' last fight fore meeting Johnson a year be-re the Hanava battle. Probably fore the Hanava battle. McMahon isn't as dangerous now as he was then, and probably Fulton will beat him. If he doesn't he ought to, anyway. He has every physical advantage, and is a better boxer.

BOBBY ANDERSON SOUGHT

Duquoin Boxer Will Be Asked to Meet Randall if Latter Beats Hanlon

As the first move of a deep-rooted plan to "get" Bobby Anderson, it became known yesterday that Eddie Randall will take a hand in the local fistic situation at the South Broadway Athletic Club next Tuesday night. Perhaps the details of the scheme were not wholly ready to be made public, but anyhow the news leaked out and Randall wouldn't deny it. Jimmy Hanlon, the Denver young ster, has been asked to opp dall in the test. Providing Randall can dispose of Hanlon, he will have a chance against Bobby Anderson, rhaps within the next three weeks. Randall opines the Hanlon job is the easiest matter he has attempted in long while. Eddie Still "There."

Randall has proved to the sati faction of not a few skeptics that in is still a mighty dangerous boxer, despite the fact that he's getting into about a year ago, only to be forced back into retirement because no one seemed willing to swap punches with seemed willing to swap punches with him.

In the interim, Randall hasn't shelved his boxing gloves. He has developed Kid Regan until the latter has just about clinched a place at the top of the local bantamweight heap. During the time he has been working with Regan, Randall says he has found that conditioning is such an easy matter, he believes he is still capable of going the route.

The original plan was to send Randall against Anderson right off the reel. Eddie balked, however.

the reel. Eddie balked, however, claiming he would rather test his ability against Hanlon first and then have a siesta with the demon from Duquoin. The only hitch that might arise to cause a switch in the plans is Hanlon's refusal to meet Randail. However, it is believed Jimmy will accept, in which event the match will be closed for one week from tenig! t.

It may be suggested, however, that St. Paul's "other income" receipts in 1916 were the smallest in several years. In the 1915 fiscal year, for instance, they were $3,649,718; in 1914, $3,475,101, and in 1913, $3,972,539, while in 1912 they were $7,591,948. Judge Jones Says Plaintif Failed to Show Drink Had Robbed Him of Faculties.

Circuit Judge Jones today hande down a decision dismissing the sui by which Henry B. Graham, forme secretary of the Graham Paper Co sought to set aside the trust he creat ed for his property in May, 1916, and to create a new trust with Paul U. McFarland and Paul V. Janis as trustees. McFarland and Janis were the plaintiffs in the suit, acting for Graham.

The grounds upon which Graham sought to set aside the original trust. created as an irrevocable trust, were that at the time he made it he was drinking heavily and was not fully aware of what he was doing. The trust turned over to John E. Bishop and the American Trust Co. as trustees, property valued at more than $500,000. Graham was to receive $500 a month from the income and the balance of the income was to be applied on Graham's debts.

DAIRY PRODUCTS IN DEMAND AND FIRM: OFFERINGS LIGHT

Values Strong—Apple Market

Fairly Steady.

Dairy products continued in good demand on the local market today and values were firmly maintained with the offerings of fresh eggs very scant. A good outside demand was noted for fancy grade of butter. The live poultry market was quiet but were again in urgent demand and the market ruled strong, while poor stock remained dull and weak. Onstock remained dull and weak. On-ions were steady but the movement was light, due to the cold weather. The apple market ruled fairly steady under a good outside demand. To-day's prices are as follows:
